Hi team -- just received. Anyone up for a call? I'm supposed to be done, but I could probably tie into a call if others are available soon.

Jacqueie --

Consistent with my discussions with you yesterday afternoon, I am attaching for your consideration an updated version of the proposed First Amendment to Order on Consent that you sent to us on July 13. Revisions to that document are shown in a redlined format. There are also a number of embedded comments in the attached redlined document which are primarily for purposes of explanation.

I note that the attached redlined document includes changes that we have previously discussed and that I understand are acceptable to EPA as well as changes that address matters that are still under discussion. I am hopeful that this version of the document will move the parties close to agreement.

If you have any questions regarding the attached document, please do not hesitate to call me.

Best regards.

Michael
